Language Land

Volume 7 Issue 1

Newsletter Date
Jan/Feb 2009

Language Land has been developed over the past seven years through funding by Newcastle-Under-Lyme NHS PCT and Staffordshire LEA, to provide a complete programme to improve the speech and language skills of children in Primary and nursery education.

It provides a detailed training package to support nursery & class teachers in adjusting their teaching practice through demonstrated language lessons, and to achieve collaborative practice.

After the speech & language therapists sessions it can be used as a complete language resource which provides modified lesson plans for children with speech, language and communication needs that can be incorporated into existing planning.

Activities can be integrated into Circle Time or timetabled as a 'stand-alone' lesson, and target:

General interaction/social skills

Good listening

Sound awareness skills

Vocabulary

Comprehension

Narrative skills

Language Land has been used extensively throughout Staffordshire LEA and has achieved excellent outcomes (see RCSLT Bulletin May 2003 'Let's go to Language land' Angela Wright).

Session plans

The sessions surround a magical journey on a magic carpet to Language Land. Once there they meet a puppet called Jack, find a magic sack, a magic tree and complete a magic jigsaw. Each part is designed to promote a specific skill

The puppet: good attention & listening

The sack: good listening and phonological awareness essential for speech development

The tree: Vocabulary & expressive language skills

The jigsaw: narrative skills

At Horn End the sessions will run consecutive weeks for approx 6 weeks, each of the children will be screened beforehand (with parental permission) and re-screened following the sessions. There will also be opportunity for parents to attend an information session.

Toby's Drum

Toby Tall's Christmas concert was a great achievement. The children sang out clearly, remembered lines, acted like true oscar nominees and gained in confidence from participating in the performance. All parents should be truly proud of their child's achievement. They made us all very proud.

Learning and Growing Together Height Chart

The Learning and Growing Together wall chart is a free height chart for parents and their children to use together. The height chart contains information about fun things that parents and carers can do with their children that will help them learn and be healthy and explains how parents and carers can gain access to free early learning and care.

The height chart is also available in 20 community language versions: Chinese, French, Polish, Portuguese, Somali, Spanish, Vietnamese, Albanian, Bulgarian, Czech, Romanian, Russian, Turkish, Arabic, Bengali, Farsi, Gujarati, Hindi, Punjabi and Urdu. Copies of the wall chart are available from DCSF Publications.
